Key Quotations for Jekyll and Hyde

Utterson-

- But he had an approved tolerance for others; sometimes wondering, almost with envy, at the high pressure of spirits involved in their misdeeds.
- "If he be Mr. Hyde," he had thought, "I shall be Mr. Seek."
- "I shall say nothing till I have seen the body," said he; "this may be very serious. Have the kindness to wait while I dress."

Lanyon

- "He began to go wrong, wrong in mind; and though of course I continue to take an interest in him for old sake's sake, as they say, I see and I have seen devilish little of the man. Such unscientific balderdash,"

Hyde

- He is not easy to describe. There is something wrong with his appearance; something displeasing, something downright detestable
- And then all of a sudden he broke out in a great flame of anger, stamping with his foot, brandishing the cane, and carrying on (as the maid described it) like a madman.

Jekyll

- Jekyll turning into Hyde-A cry followed; he reeled, staggered, clutched at the table and held on, staring with injected eyes, gasping with open mouth
- Jekyll's letter- It was on the moral side, and in my own person, that I learned to recognise the thorough and primitive duality of man

Poole

- No, sir, that thing in the mask was never Dr. Jekyll--God knows what it was, but it was never Dr. Jekyll; and it is the belief of my heart that there was murder done."

Setting

- The fire burned in the grate; a lamp was set lighted on the chimney shelf, for even in the houses the fog began to lie thickly; and there, close up to the warmth, sat Dr. Jekyll, looking deathly sick.

- A great chocolate-coloured pall lowered over heaven, but the wind was continually charging and routing these embattled vapours'

- As the cab drew up before the address indicated, the fog lifted a little and showed him a dingy street,

- The hall, when they entered it, was brightly lighted up; the fire was built high; and about the hearth the whole of the servants, men and women, stood huddled together like a flock of sheep.
